Washington Crossing the Delaware

Emanuel Leutze's famous painting of Washington crossing the Delaware was historically inaccurate.

It was 1776 and Washington was leading his troops across the near-frozen river to surprise the British at Trenton. The painting shows the general standing gallantly in a small boat. Crouched at his feet are a number of loyal soldiers, and blowing defiantly in the cold wintry air is Old Glory.

Any historian worth his salt would notice that Washington's boat looks conspicuously like the boats used to haul wine along the Rhine in Leutze's native Germany. It may be excusable under the privilege of artistic license, but the Stars and Stripes the artist shows fluttering at the stern was not even in existence until 1777.

Country

Holding the sectional award are Dave Futch, Coach Robinson, and Mike Baker. Mike Baker, second and Dave Futch, fifth. Ours was the only team to place two runners in the top five at the sectional meet. These fine performances helped the Steelers earn their first trip to the State Meet, where they finished eighteenth.

Varsity Soccer

If you look only at the records of our past three soccer seasons (19-5-1; "73"), (20-4-0; "74") and (12-10-3; "75") you could say that we were not as strong as before. But records only show who won or lost; they tell you nothing about the character of the team. We lost nine starters from the "74" team, and replacing them with lads who were without varsity experience was a job of great magnitude. The schedule in "75" was more difficult as we replaced some of the easier Illinois teams with five strong teams from the St. Louis area. We lost all five games, but gained the experience we so sorely needed. Proof of our improvement was our well earned 2-0 victory over a tough Collinsville team in the sub-sectional. We missed a repeat trip to the state tournament by a margin of one goal (penalty kick) in our 1-0 loss to a fine team from South in the finals of the sectional. To our graduating senior players, Coach Kehoe extends admiration and sincere wishes for success in the future. The examples they set in desire, teamwork, and sportsmanship cannot be exceeded.

Coaches' Comment:

This years team, although mostly underclassmen, gave a good account of themselves. Many of the young wrestlers came along very well and we should have a good team in the future. Congratulations to all those who participated, and we are looking forward to next year.

Steelerette Basketball

Steelerette Basketball has become a respected sport at G.C.H.S. "North" over the past two years in competition. The players have earned the respect of the other schools around as well as that of their male classmates.

It's an honor to be on the Steelerette Basketball team and it demands hard work, self-discipline, and desire. More freshmen came out this year than ever before and as the program grows, so will the quality of play. We hope to have in the near future, Junior High girl's teams as well as Freshmen and Sophomore teams, so that more girls will have the opportunity to develop their talents, much the same as some of our competing schools.

Athletic Trainers

What is a trainer? Trainers are people that dedicate their time to the preventing of and caring for injuries. The trainers are always present at every practice and game. They possess the knowledge to evaluate and care for the injured person. Trainers spend many hours at their job; they arrive at practice and games before the coaches, and remain afterward until everything has been taken care of. The rewards these young men and women receive are like grains of salt compared to the time they spend.

Being the 1976 Ingot Editor-in-Chief has been a thrilling experience. The staff was super. I enjoyed every minute of the hours we were together. (And there were a lot of them!) Producing the yearbook has required hard work and talent. I hope the students and faculty at North enjoy and appreciate the book as much as we enjoyed making it for you.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America, over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conferred by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of concinnity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

WE, THEREFORE, the Representatives of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in General Congress Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be, FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which INDEPENDENT States may of right do, And for the support of this Declaration with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of understanding the cultural context of the research. It highlights the need for researchers to be sensitive to the values and beliefs of the communities they are studying. This is particularly important in the field of education, where cultural differences can significantly impact learning outcomes. The author argues that a one-size-fits-all approach to education is not only ineffective but also disrespectful to the diverse cultures of our world.

In the second part, the author explores the challenges of conducting research in culturally diverse settings. One major challenge is the language barrier, which can hinder communication between researchers and participants. Another challenge is the lack of standardized research methods that are applicable across different cultures. The author suggests that researchers should adopt a more flexible and adaptive approach to research, one that takes into account the unique characteristics of each cultural context.

The third part of the paper focuses on the role of the researcher in promoting cultural understanding and respect. The author argues that researchers have a responsibility to not only study culture but also to actively engage with and learn from the communities they are studying. This involves building trust and rapport with participants, which is essential for conducting meaningful research. The author also emphasizes the importance of sharing research findings in a way that is accessible and relevant to the communities being studied.

In conclusion, the author calls for a more holistic and culturally sensitive approach to research. This approach should recognize the value of all cultures and work to bridge the gaps between different cultural perspectives. By doing so, we can create a more inclusive and equitable world for all.
